YOUR JOURNEY BEGINS

... with Stockbridge Designs

We are part of the KJM Group Ltd and have been building conservatories for nearly 25 years.

Our emphasis on quality extends to employing all our own installers and base building crews to give you the service and attention to detail you require.

We look after the whole project from start to finish, from handling your planning application (if required) through designing and building your ideal conservatory, to fitting blinds and supplying furniture as a finishing touch.

Stockbridge Designs Conservatories are light, airy and spacious and also strong, safe and secure.

Have a new home without the trauma of moving from your old one! We'll guide you through the options available.

Do you choose the elegance of traditional hardwood or the practicality of PVCu with its steel re-inforced multi-chamber construction?

The one shown below has been built for use as an orchid house and has been designed to be both functional (to fit in with orchid growing needs) and aesthetically pleasing to match the setting.

Your new conservatory will be part of your home and part of your garden too.

In summer, open the doors and allow the fragrance of the flowers inside – bring your garden indoors.

In the spring or autumn, it will be warm and cosy – bring your lounge into the garden, shutting the cold wind firmly outside.

How will you use it? To entertain family and friends on pleasant, warm evenings or perhaps to enjoy peaceful solitude with the Sunday papers?

We can design a conservatory to suit your many requirements. That is why Stockbridge Designs offer a bespoke service.

No two conservatories are ever quite the same. To fit in with both your house and your ideas, it has to be a one off. Indulge yourself in the sheer pleasure a conservatory can bring.

Or build it as an alternative to a home extension. Whatever your reasons, design and technology combine to provide the ideal solution for you, your lifestyle, your property and of course, your budget.

Stockbridge Designs are specialists in designing beautiful conservatories, indeed at the time of writing we have won no less than three national awards in three separate years for our conservatories. Each one is individually designed to complement the property it will be built on and to meet the owner's specific requirements.

You will require less heating and more ventilation in a South facing conservatory than one which faces North.

As a rough guide, aim for 15% to 25% of the floor area as opening windows and roof vents.

Elegant blinds can also reduce the glare of the sun and help keep the temperature down.

With opening and closing roof vents, choose from the traditional winding pole or the effortless electric motor.

Or why not go for the ultimate of a climatically controlled sensor and operating system.

Which way will your conservatory face? North, South, East or West? Facing East will create a sunny breakfast room, West will allow it to fill the warm glow of the setting sun.

North facing will give a little of both with a cooler temperature throughout the day, whilst those facing South will have sunlight from dawn to dusk.

Sit and admire your landscape, after all, nowhere else will give you such a view of your garden whilst still protecting you from the elements. Make it your own personal window on the world.

Choose from our extensive range of materials and glazing options to further personalise and enhance your conservatory.

Modern conservatories are vastly different to early examples built primarily to protect exotic plants from the worst of our weather.

With the level of insulation we offer, you can have a conservatory you can use all year round.

Whatever your style of home, whatever your lifestyle, we are confident we can design and build a conservatory to match your ideal.

With the wide choice of colours in traditional hardwood or PVCu, you are in control of the finished room, and can work with our designers from day one.

Most people find that they 'live' in their new conservatory far more than they originally imagined, so try to allow room for this when designing yours.

It often becomes the focal point of the house, to be used all year round, and at night too.

The warm glow of the lighting makes the conservatory even more inviting.

The open feel of a conservatory is enhanced by keeping the frame and roof bars as slim as possible whilst not detracting from their structural integrity.

The elegantly crafted profiles, even in conservatories big enough to house a swimming pool, sit hand in hand with strength and security.
